

Land Use Category 8: Forrest/Canopy Cover

Where tree canopy is the dominant feature. This includes areas used for forestry but does not include areas dominated by Cassava or Banana production which fall under land use category 5. There is no distinction between productive zones (Pine plantations) and native vegetation. This category includes early stage rehabilitation and productive projects where canopy cover is expected at the maturity of those projects. There is no distinction between native and non-native dominated zones. This report includes bamboo forest cover as tree cover.
